Unit 5 • Off we go Level A

ARead the text carefully.

Last summer, Noah and his aunt travelled through northern Spain by train. They wanted to visit several towns without taking a plane. They booked their tickets online and carried only two small backpacks. During the journey, Noah watched the mountains and villages through the window. In one town, they stayed in a family-run guesthouse and rented bicycles to explore the area. They visited a local market, tried traditional dishes and talked to residents about regional traditions. On the final day, their train was delayed for two hours, but they used the time to visit a nearby museum. Noah has already started planning another train adventure. He believes that travelling slowly helps people discover more about a place.
